Commissioners Worked Diligently

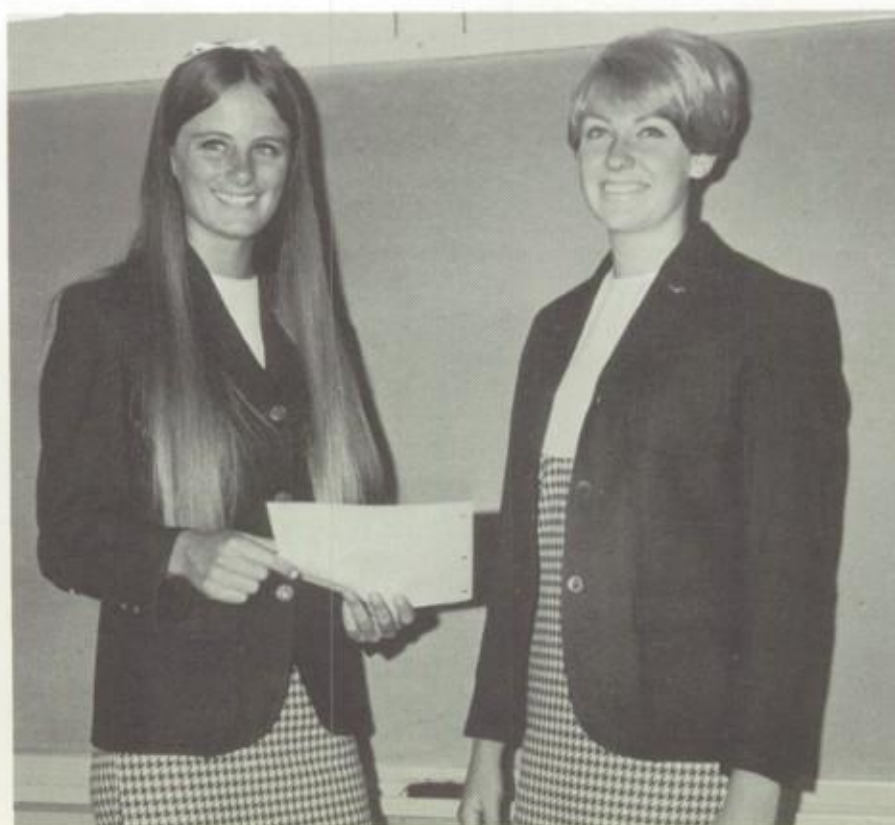

Mike Flanigan
Led the "Mighty Fifteen"

Tim Skelley - Assistant Commissioner
General

Mr. Kenneth Dowell - A.S.B. Advisor

Marjie Moody - Corresponding Secretary; Diane Johnson - Clerical Secretary

Judi DeHamer - Clerk

Dick Armbrust - Finance

Donna Jones - Girls' Activities

Garry Stock - Athletics

Tom Petrich - Elections

The 1967-68 Board of A.S.B. Commissioners introduced many improvements to our campus. They gave Patio Tables and umbrellas to the lunch area to add color and comfort to the surroundings. Potted plants also aided in improving the lunch court. Real attempts were made to maintain a clean and litter-free campus.

Homecoming, Commissioners' Ball, dances, assemblies, rallies, and athletic activities all fall under the auspices of the Commissioners. Better activities prevailed and highlighted an exciting year.

Under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Dowell, the Commissioners presented an active year, and, besides coordinating these many functions, led busy lives as Hoover students.

Free to Govern Ourselves

Above: Tim Skelley, Assistant Commissioner General, directed the monthly Student Council meetings. Right: The Student Council consisted of elected representatives from the third period classes. Below: The representatives gave reports to their respective classes and took the suggestions of their classmates back to the council.

Hoover students had the privilege of participating in their representative government through the student council. All complaints and suggestions were aired at the meetings and then presented to the Commissioners.

Our efficient system was definitely a valuable lesson in democracy and was good preparation for future years.

Two lucky boys who attended the carnival were A.F.S. Students Bo Jacobson and Alejandro Alvarez.

“Carnival” Sparked Friendship Among Co-Eds

Donna Jones, Commissioner of Girls' Activities, presided as Mistress of Ceremonies.

Hoover's Song and Cheer Leaders aroused the girls' spirit by leading many lively yells.

The drill team introduced itself by displaying some of the new routines.

Hoover's rallies are traditionally held in the stadium during seventh period. At the first rally, Coach Roy Engle introduced the football team. Joe Vechio and Fred Lowell added a humorous touch by acting as Mission Bay Buccaneers booted by Hoover's mascot Cardinal Birds.

The Dias Cardinales Staff climaxed the Lincoln rally with their presentation of spirit by use of lettered boxes. Lunch rallies took place during both lunches.

Three huge, colorful lollipops dominated the green napkined surface of the float, balanced by a bright sun at the opposite end. The float was complemented by the three beautiful contestants for Homecoming Queen: Diane Johnson, Judi DeHamer, and Michele Strey.

The Junior Class presented "Up Up and Away" as their contribution to the festive Homecoming 1967. Attendant Renee Carnett stood beneath colorful balloons surrounded by pink paper napkin flowers.

The winning float, "A Place In the Sun," was a major achievement for the Sophomore Class. These working sophomores built their huge float and attached thousands of paper napkins. Mary Doyle, Sophomore Attendant, stood under green arches beneath a towering yellow sun.

Lynn Mason portrayed one of the children who received the gifts.

The Period 3 Modern Dance class, under the direction of Mrs. Ferris, performed many varied dances to show the spirit of Christmas around the world. Milly Stassis twirled to the vibrant Russian music.

Mr. Charles King
Promoted
Harmony at Hoover

Mr. Charles King visited Hoover during the week of January 8-12. His two music assemblies gave the students a chance to laugh and sing many songs together. Throughout the week he spoke in classes giving his opinions, listening to students and sharing a smile. Working with the Cardinal Choir and Ensemble gave him the chance to present a program to the student body consisting of lively Negro spirituals and dialogue. Mr. King's warmth and friendliness will long be remembered by Hoover students.

Standing ovations were typical of the students' reception of Mr. King

Mr. King expressed great humanitarianism in his work.

Individual conversation created mutual respect between many students and Mr. King.

Mr. King visited various classes during his stay at Hoover.

Cardinal Coeds were Honored for Service

Mary Kiley — September

Wendi Valleau — October

Margie Moody — November

Marcia Kern — December

Cathy Buono — January

Hattie Bryant — February

Laurie Singer — March

The Cardinal Coed of the Month is selected by the Cardinal Coed Cabinet. These girls are recognized for their participation in school activities and their over-all good citizenship. Each of the ten girls had their pictures placed on the front bulletin board and an article about each was written in The Cardinal during her month.

Juniors Combine Work and Fun

The junior year is always a "coming-out" year for high school students. Juniors are able to join in many more activities than they were as sophomores, such as the Junior Prom and Junior Fun Nite. These two pages illustrate some of the activities the '67 - '68 juniors of Hoover enjoyed taking part in.

Barbara Hatalson organized a candied apple sale.

Starting upper left, clockwise: Juniors were proud of Renee' Carnett and their float, "Up, Up and Away;" "Belle Nuit à Paris" was the theme for this year's Junior Prom; Wayne Caldwell often added the music before assemblies; Candied apple wrappers - evidence of a successful Junior Class sale.

Although the float was a large undertaking for newly oriented high school students, the sophomores came through with a show of school spirit and the winning float. It took over seventy hours of work, 10,000 paper napkins, ten cans of yellow and green spray paint and was a lot of fun. Congratulations to all sophomores.

Pep and Determination Represent Hoover Femmes

Meeting the song and cheerleaders, club presidents, foreign exchange students, and learning cheers rounded out a full and exciting evening for incoming sophomores at the Big and Little Sister Party. A fashion show, presented by the "Big Sisters" was helpful in giving sophomore girls an idea of appropriate dress for various school activities.

The Cardinal Co-eds, one of the oldest organizations on campus, sponsored this and other projects, such as the Dad and Daughter Banquet, the Mother and Daughter Tea, and the Christmas Mailbox. They also helped with the production of Dirndle Day.

The sale of Homecoming mums and pennants helped to build the Cardinal Co-ed treasury while promoting school spirit.

Reliability And Patience Demanded From Yearbook Staff

Yes, today! Oh, where's Hattie?

Annual Staff can be complete chaos -- utterly exhausting and exasperating. But it is well worth the effort if we can bring to Hoover the best yearbook it has ever seen.

Our most sincere thanks and appreciation go to Mr. David Starr, our most patient advisor, and Hattie Bryant, our tireless Editor-in-Chief.

News Occurred Regularly

The members of the 1967-68 Cardinal Staff again ran up against the typical problems: impending deadlines and many hours of hard work. The journalists reported current events and interviewed personalities for feature articles.

Working after school was necessary in order for the staff to meet the deadlines of their regular editions. Three special editions were produced. They were the six-page Homecoming edition, the eight-page Christmas edition, and the biggest of them all -- the Senior edition.

Competition also provided incentive for our aspiring journalists. They competed in the writeoff at San Diego State College and Journalism Day at U.C.L.A.

Membership in the Key Club was open to all boys at Hoover. Applications were required and submitted to the club president at the beginning of the year. These letters were, in turn, reviewed by the members of the club.

The boys ushered at various school functions and planned their annual trip to a Tijuana orphanage.

Music and Timing March Hand in Hand

Mr. William Carlson, new to the Hoover faculty, directed Hoover's dedicated musicians in school assemblies and competition throughout San Diego.

The band members, under the leadership of a new director, Mr. William Carlson, devoted many hours to practice. Their worthwhile goal was perfection.

The drum section of the band began practicing the marching cadence during the summer. This required work and effort during early morning and after-school sessions with the drill team.

This year the musicians were able to wear their uniforms while marching. The members did not receive their restyled uniforms until late last year.

The band members performed in Hoover's traditional Spring Concert. Off campus, they participated in the annual District and Regional Festivals and San Diego State College's Homecoming Parade. They also Performed during Band Night at State College.

Hoover's drill team -- a welcome addition this year -- performed at the football rallies and halftime activities.

The Girls were chosen last year on the basis of their audition results. They learned a routine and performed it for the songleaders, Miss Barr, and Mrs. Ferris.

The hopefuls for the positions of the four captains and colonel taught sixteen members a new routine as the sponsors looked on and made their final decisions.

The glove corps met each morning to practice with the band. They also gave up much of their time during the remainder of the previous school year and the summer.

The team performed to such songs as "The Stripper," "Georgy Girl," "Girl From Impanema," and "Spanish Flea."

President Joel Lifschultz, Vice-President Marcia Kern, Secretary Linda Heckler, and Treasurer Sue Ranscht discuss proceedings at a Monday morning meeting.

Interested in the welfare of others, the Ecivres have again this year contributed many unselfish hours of service to their school and community.

They have answered various requests to help in needed areas in San Diego and in the production of school activities.

Members of this special organization gave up three days of their Christmas vacation to open mail for the National Arthritis Foundation. Several Ecivres also took an active part in the annual Danny Thomas Leukemia Drive.

Profits from the sale of the traditional pep ribbons enabled the Ecivres to sponsor a special assembly featuring the popular folk-singer, Charles King.

Quick Thinking and Fast Talking Required to Succeed in Speech Arts

Third Row: Mark Redlinger, Robin Roberts, Laurie Lewis, Lynn Mason, Ken Koc, Ron Beamer, Lou Branchine, David Partain, Ken Sweet, Sue Stephens.

The members of the Cardinal Speech Team enjoyed a busy and highly successful year. The Cardinal Team is divided into four different groups. These groups are Oral Interpretation, Debate, Forensics, and Discussion.

An Oral Interpretation tournament is basically comprised of ten-minute rounds of reading poetry and prose. Debates are presented in four rounds. In preparation for this type of speech, partners build up the negative and affirmative approaches of a given topic. In Forensics, also known as Original Oration, the speaker has thirty minutes to prepare a five to seven minute speech on a specified subject. Discussion is problem solving members of discussion teams speak about problems dealing with politics, progress, people, and other complex situations common in our world today.

Those students who placed for Hoover in the local tournaments were eligible to compete in the Master's Tournament. At this tournament, judges chose the best speakers from San Diego.

Co-operation: Key to Thespians' Success

The Thespians aimed to enrich the Student Body's appreciation of the dramatic arts. They gained experience by participating in and attending play productions, workshops, and lectures.

Membership in this organization is elite; it is determined by a twenty-five point system, ten of which must be earned in productions at the high school and fifteen in productions in the community.

This year the troupe sponsored the "Thespian Apprentice Festival"--a novel and well-accepted idea. The approval and participation in this project was tremendous. The ten members of the Thespians hoped to make others in our Student Body more aware of their work and activities. The Thespians permitted non-members to attend meetings and encouraged them to give suggestions. Thus, the non-members became apprentices.

They then began practice for the festival. The "veterans" offered help and advice so that, at the time of the opening, the apprentices were well-prepared. Pantomimes, monologues, short stories, and even musical selections were enthusiastically received and many were rated extremely good.

Hooverites Served School and Community

The Ducateers, a small group of energetic girls, sold tickets to the football and basketball games. They also sold for other school functions by request.

The girls gave up their lunch periods and sacrificed many hours to after-school work. They also sponsored various cupcake and cookie sales to finance a trip to Disneyland at the end of the year.

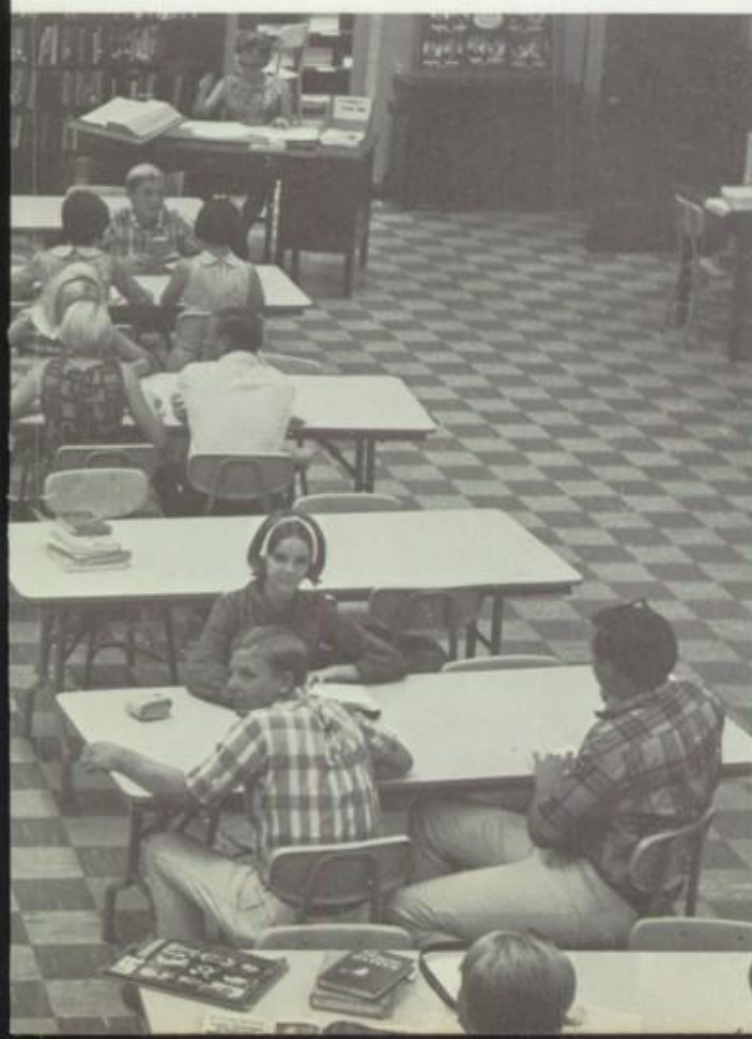

A new project this year, the Hostess Club welcomed and served guests at teas and and faculty meetings. They also greeted alumni at a special tea following the rally on Homecoming and served at the reception for mid-term graduates. Wearing white dresses combined with red accessories, the girls symbolized the true spirit of Hoover.

"Carousel": Dream of Hoover Y-Teens

Trick-or-treating for Unicef at Halloween, visiting the Home of Guiding Hands for mentally retarded children, and caroling at the Navy Hospital over the Christmas holidays, marked the beginning of the Junior-Y-Teens' service projects.

Sucker sales and car washes built up the treasury, while joints with key clubs from different high schools in our area rounded out the social life of the hard-working junior girls.

The Junior-Y-Teens were also very active during the preparation of "Carousel," the annual Y-Teens Ball. The theme, "World of Color," was chosen and committees made plans concerning the favors, bids, and decorations.

Informal meetings, joints with key clubs throughout San Diego, car washes, and various service projects typified the activities of the Senior Y-Teens.

The Senior Y-Teens started the year by electing officers. The candlelighting Recognition Ceremony followed, officers were introduced, and members received their cards.

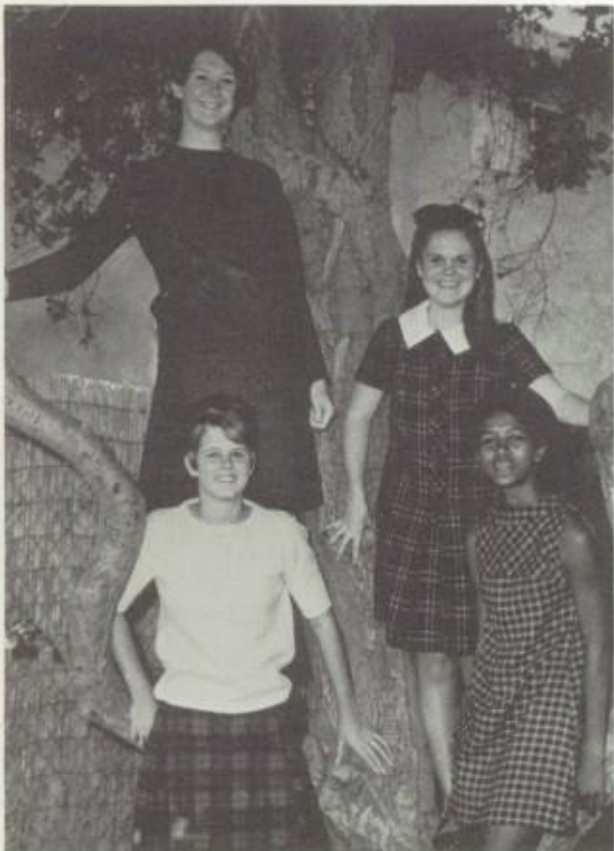

A group of about fifteen Senior Y-Teens visited the Children's Hospital to decorate Christmas trees for the children. The girls chatted with the young patients in hopes of bringing happiness to the less fortunate. The Y-Teens returned following the holidays to take down the trees.

Quality Demanded From Sophomores

Immediately following the induction of new members, the Sophomore Y-Teens began performing their duties as a service club.

Wasting no time, they made plans to entertain the mentally retarded children at the Home of Guiding Hands over the Christmas holidays. They hope to make this a permanent project for the future.

The Sophomore Y-Teens also participated in "Carousel," a city-wide sponsored Y-Teen dance. Held in April, each Y-Teen organization received a specified number of bids. A Queen and her court were chosen from the numerous Y-Teen clubs throughout the city.

The Sophomore Y-Teens donated proceeds from bake sales and car washes to various charities.

Pan American Club

The purpose of the Pan American Club is to strengthen the ties between Hoover students and our neighbors to the South.

This year the organization, comprised of sixty members, invited guest speakers to attend meetings and present their opinions on topics being discussed. Among those who spoke were Alejandro Alvarez, our foreign-exchange student from Madrid, Spain, and the popular folksinger, Charles King.

They planned a caroling party over the Christmas holidays, and on January sixth, King's Day, the members participated in a gift-exchange.

Cupcake and sucker sales built up the club treasury and helped members to further their plans for work projects in Mexico.

Members were also able to sign up for "Project Pen Pal." Any Pan American club member could choose and correspond with a student from Latin America.

The purpose of this organization was to promote interest in the history and culture of ancient Rome and to achieve fellowship between the Latin students of Hoover and other schools.

The Roman Banquet, the club's main event of the year, was held in the cafeteria and was open to the entire school. A Roman atmosphere was planned and everyone was encouraged to attend in Roman costume.

Club members sold their services as slaves and served traditional Roman dishes.

Proceeds from fudge and cupcake sales helped to make the banquet a big success.

Defense and Discipline Practiced By Judo Students

Master Holtman, a third degree black belt holder, instructed the members of the new Cardinski Judo Club in the art of self-defense.

Attending the meetings, sponsored by Mr. George Vinson, the members practiced effective holds and throws. The students classified their studies as: self-discipline, self-confidence, and self-destruction.

Our judo experts attended meetings dressed in judogi, white coat and baggy pants outfit, which are tied with belts of different colors. The belts signify the achievement of the wearer. All members of the club started with a white belt, which has no significance.

Formed one year ago, the Lettermen's Club has made its goal one of service to our school. Breakfasts at the Campus Chuck Wagon and guest speakers provided the mighty lettermen with quiet entertainment and relaxation.

This year, the club sponsored a basketball game between the Harlem Travelers and the members of the San Diego Chargers interested in basketball.

Besides selling refreshments at Hoover's basketball games, the Lettermen's Club also sponsored the three Sports Banquets held at intervals throughout the year.

FOOTBALL '67

Buccaneers Burned, 33-0

Hoover scored easily and often to beat a badly outmanned Mission Bay. Taking the ball early in the first quarter, the Cards scored their first touchdown when fullback Bill Pitts plunged in from three yards out.

Also taking the wind out of the Buccaneers' sails was a forty-two yard touchdown on an interception by safety George Cappelletti. Halfback John Phillips added three more touchdowns, the longest being a sixty-yarder. The game was always out of reach of the Bucs, thanks to super-tough Hoover defense.

S-O-C-K Sock It To 'Em All The Way

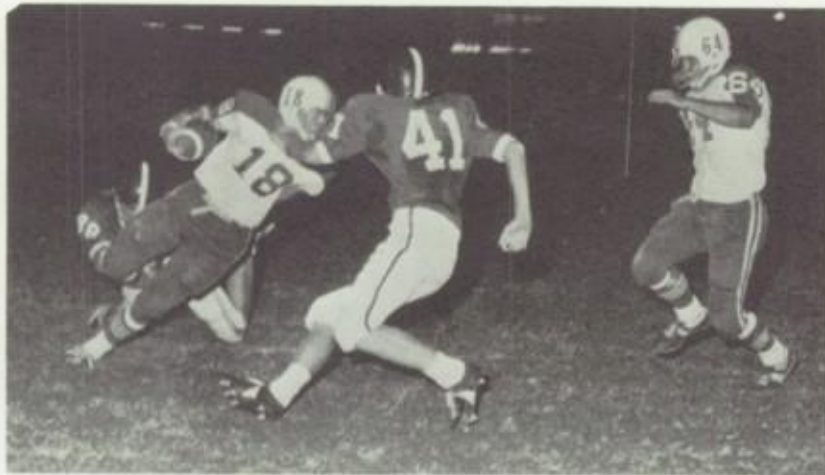

Starting above clockwise: Light end Lloyd Burrows catches a side line pass as a Helix defender moves in. Bill Jacobsen breaks open the season for the Red Birds. Safety George Cappelletti intercepts a pass against Mission Bay and runs it back for six Points. Halfback John Phillips snares a Kuhns pass for a large gain.

Helix

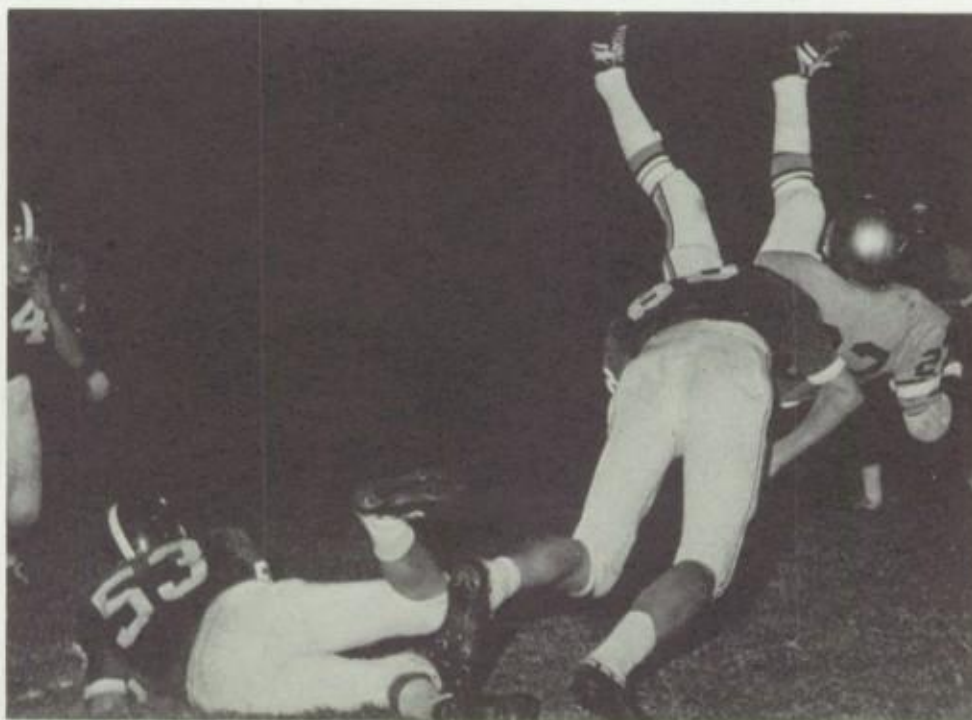

Humbled 21-12

Starting right, counter-clockwise: Safety Richard Curcia zeros in on a Helix runner. End Pat Kelly makes a difficult catch against a Helix defender. Linebacker Jacobsen snubs out the Helix quarterback. Tom Petrich trips up ball carrier as Lloyd Burrows puts on finishing touches.

Once again it was a fired up Hoover defense that prevailed to hold Helix to a mere twelve points. It was not until late in the fourth quarter that the Highlanders were able to get a tally on the scoreboard.

The Cards' first score came late in the second quarter when quarterback Charlie Kuhns fired a pass to end Pat Kelly. It was good for thirty-two yards and six points. Jack Neal also had an excellent game, playing both offense and defense, and scoring one touchdown. The Cardinals' final score came with a one-yard drive from full-back Ed Kennedy.

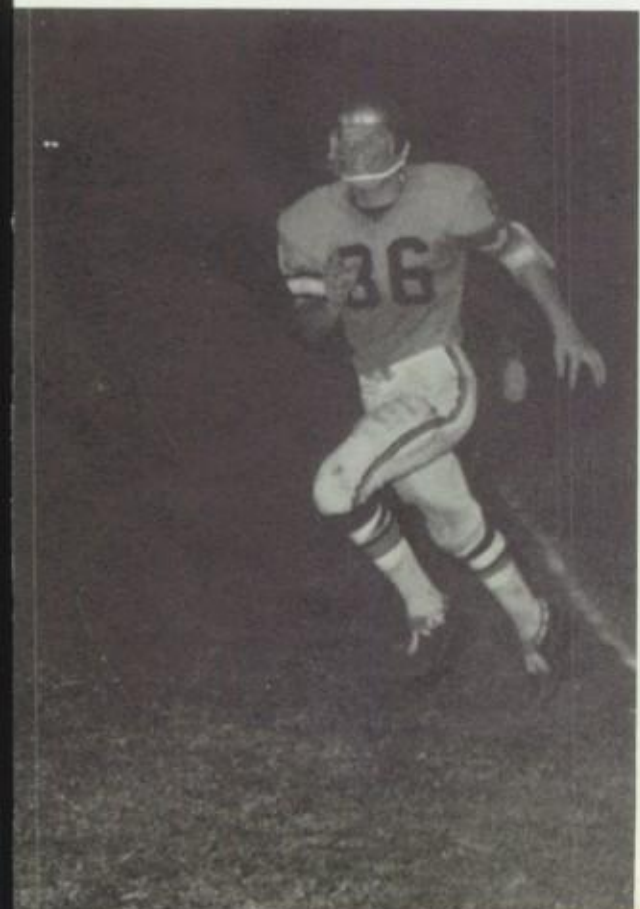

Colts

Clobbered 21-6

It was to be a hard-fought game as the two traditional rivals took to the gridiron. Early in the first quarter the Cardinals took the ball and drove it deep into Crawford territory. It was then a Charlie Kuhns pass to Dana Baltzer for Hoover's first score.

In the second quarter, Mike Martinez took a Colt punt and returned it eighty-three yards for a touchdown. The score stood fourteen to zero at the half. Quarterback Kuhns connected with a pass to Martinez for Hoover's only score in the second half.

The Colts finally managed to get on the scoreboard, but by that time it was another well-played Hoover victory.

Starting upper left, clockwise: Safety Dana Baltzer knocks pass away from an opposing end on San Diego. Tom Petrich makes a valiant effort to stop the San Diego ball carrier. Bill Pitts, the Hoover Fullback heads for pay dirt against San Diego.

Lincoln Licks Hoover, 39-6

Hoover went down to a loss at the hands of an undefeated Lincoln force. Halfback Mike Martinez tallied for the Red Birds' only score of the game.

Cards, Komets Tie 27-27

It was undoubtedly going to be a hard game for the Cardinals as the two seasonal rivals took to the football field. Hoover, who had previously lost two straight games, was taking on a team who had all but won their league.

In the first quarter it was a defensive battle as both teams were unable to score. Early in the second quarter, Kearny scored and went ahead seven to nothing. The Red Birds came right back however, on a long drive engineered by quarterback Kuhns, with halfback Phillips then scoring from ten yards out.

For the remainder of the game, the lead went back and forth between both teams. The rest of the Cardinals' scores came from Mike Martinez on a kick-off return, a Charlie Kuhns pass to George Cappelletti, and a one yard plunge from fullback Ed Kennedy.

Above: Four Kearny defenders find it hard going trying to bring Fullback Bill Pitts down.

Cards Hex

Hawks, 26-6

A powerful Hoover ran over a winless Madison in the process of winning their fourth game of the season. The Red Birds rolled to three first-half touchdowns and never were in danger thereafter. Madison scored its only touchdown in the third period.

The balanced Cardinal attack distributed touchdowns among four players. John Phillips ran for one from two yards out. Charlie Kuhns tallied from one yard out highlighting another long drive. Mike Martinez scampered forty-one yards for six points. The final Hoover score came when George Cappelletti snared a Kuhns pass good for twenty-four yards and the score.

Tigers

Tamed, 6-0

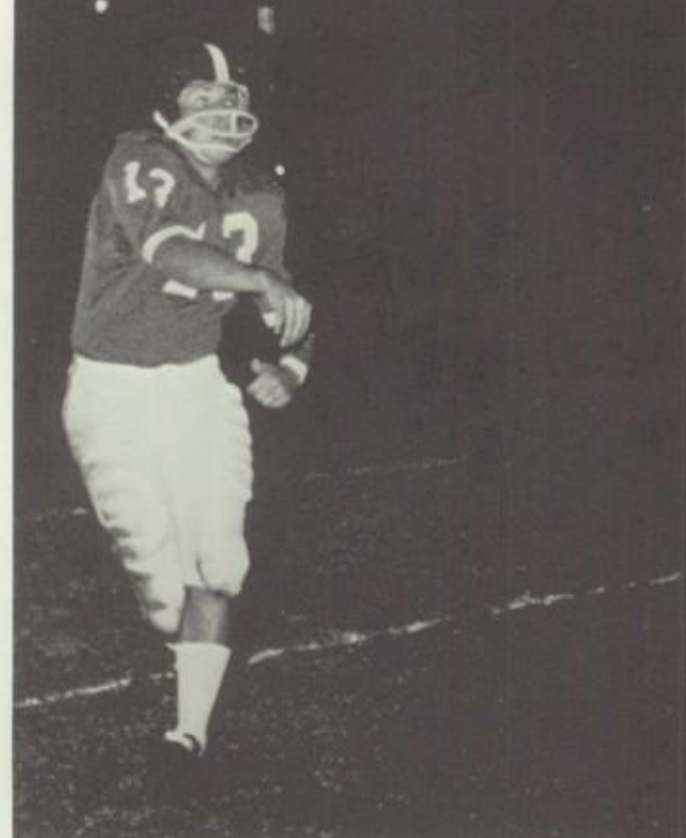

The Hoover attack was somewhat hampered in that four seniors on the squad were removed from this game for disciplinary reasons. Putting in exceptionally fine play on defense were senior Robert Babb and junior Jack Neal.

It was in the second period that fullback Bill Pitts burst away for a forty-seven yard touchdown dash, this proving to be the only score of the game. The second half was strictly a see-saw battle as both teams were unable to score.

The Cardinals spoiled the Tigers' Homecoming when the gun sounded -- Cards six, Tigers zero.

Hoover Held, 32-6

Halfback John Phillips scored the Cardinals' only score on a sixty yard run. Thus, the Saints walked off with their first undefeated season. For the Cards the season ended with Homecoming, five wins, three losses, and one tie.

Head Coach Roy Engle and Line Coach Russ Leslie ably led Hoover's football team through a season marked by outstanding spirit. Although there were some disappointments, the Cards did provide Hoover fans with many exciting moments! Over-all, the Red Birds won five, lost three, and tied one.

Many of the exceptional players played on both the offensive and the defensive squads. Noteworthy Hoover linemen included Bill Jacobsen, Dan Haugam, Rich Masey, Tom Chase, Joe Aleto, and Richard Stamos. Lloyd Burrows, Jack Neal, and Dana Baltzer did a great job at the offensive end positions. Charlie Kuhns quarterbacked while Bill Pitts, John Phillips, and Mike Martinez handled the running duties.

The team spent the summer vacation, not to mention hard hours during the year, working to prepare for the season. Often hampered by injuries to key players, they never gave up, as was evident in the Morse game. The squad, loaded with underclass talent, should perform strongly next year.

Hoover's Cross Country effort was somewhat impeded by the loss of four lettermen who decided not to run this year. However, guts and hard work were synonymous with Coach Whitehead's harriers. The meets they won can only be attributed to the strong effort put out by many of the hard working seniors as well as the juniors.

Coach Whitehead could often be heard saying "more effort" or "step up your pace." The runners were true to form as they gave it all they had one hundred per cent of the time.

Hal Mitrovich, in his second year of coaching, did an outstanding job of not only coaching, but also creating sportsmanship among his players and everyone connected with him.

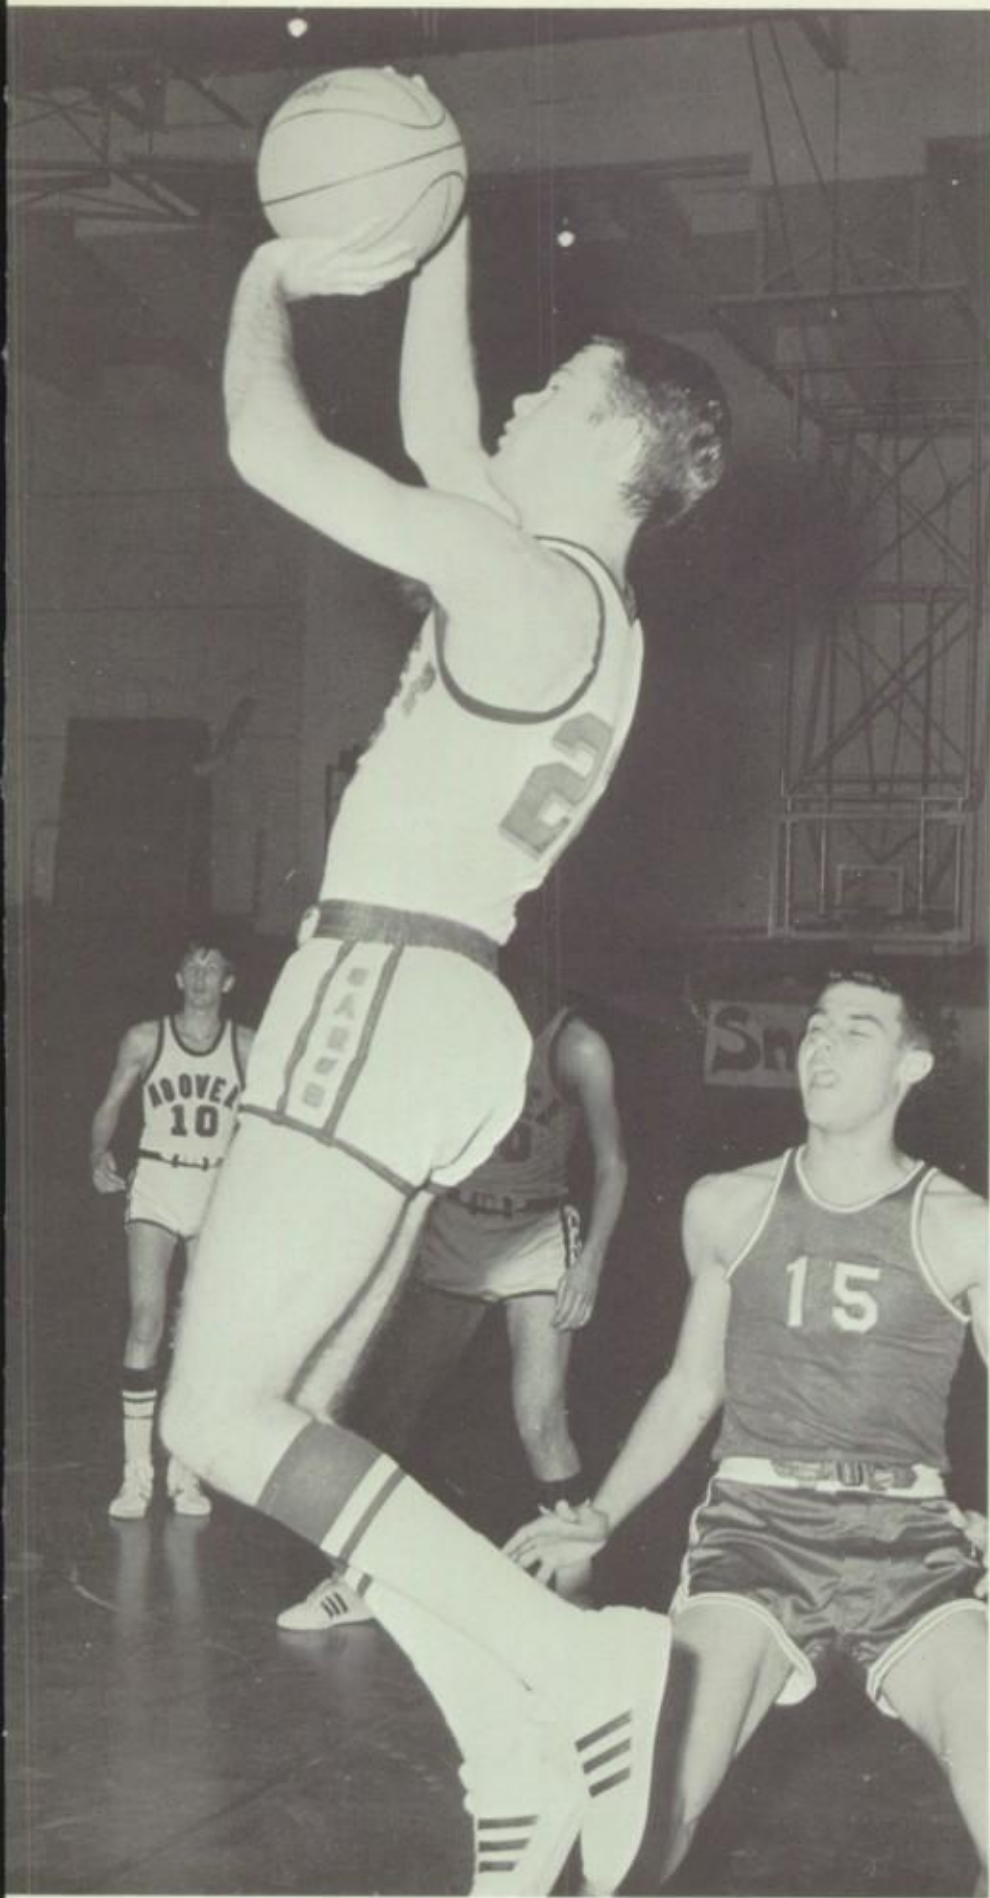

The Hoover team started off by losing many of its first games. But through one of the finest efforts of the year, they came back and were University Tournament Consolation Champions. Another highlight of the season was cager John Havens breaking Hoover's scoring record by popping in thirty-eight during the University Tournament.

Also contributing heavily were forwards Lloyd Burrows and Jack Neal. Helping greatly in the backcourt were high scorer Bill Conti and hustling Charlie Henry. Other exceptional players were Mike Harrison, Mike Burnett, and Tim Skelley.

Although this may not have been Hoover's most victorious season, the fact that four juniors started shows much promise for an Eastern League title next year.

First Row: Magill, Potter, Steinruck—Manager, Fornaca—Manager, Tucker, Bronikowski. Second Row: Garcia, James, Rosen, Kollmyer, Fleetwood, Hilke, Maloney, Adams, Ryan, Scholl, Ambler, Coach Baranski. Hoover's Junior Varsity displayed great overall team effort during the 1967-1968 season. Outstanding efforts came from such players as Garcia who is only a sophomore and Carpenter who had some varsity experience early in the year.

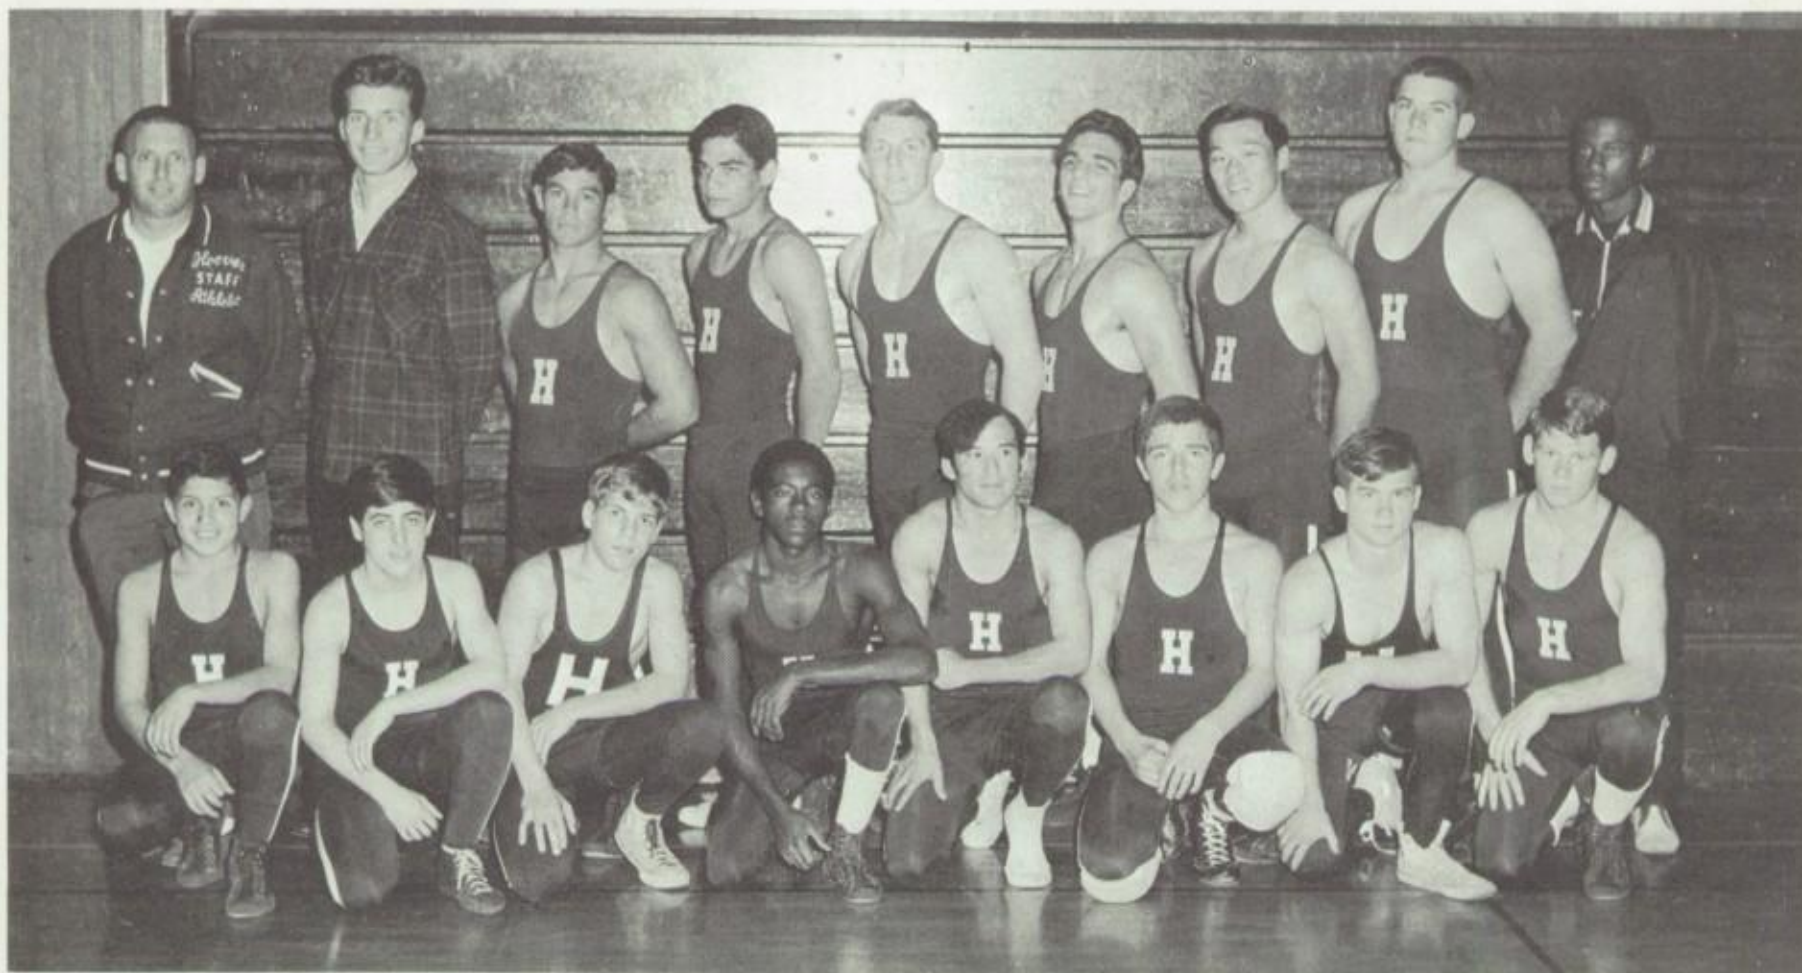

With these outstanding team members, along with many others, the next year's varsity team should be in contention for a league championship. Although being weak in the win column this year's J.V. provided many tense and thrilling moments for the fans of Hoover High. Under Coach Baranski's continued guidance the teams of the future will continue to build strong new material.

Defending SD-CIF Champions

Seated: Heenan (mgr.), McCracken, Petrich, Hibbard, Cappelletti, Johnson, Jacobsen, Baltzer, Brace (mgr.).

Standing: Lahner (mgr.), Coach Bartow, Martinez, Stock, Harrison, Armbrust, Ouinones, Helfrick, Daw, Steel, Kennedy (mgr.).

Loaded with great hitting, and fielding talent, it seemed as if Coach Jerry Bartow had lost little from last year's championship team. With such standouts as All-C.I.F. infielder Dana Baltzer, the defending S.D.—C.I.F. had only lost one ball game up to printing time.

With power hitters such as Garry Stock, Bill Jacobsen, and Dick Armbrust, opposing pitchers had many headaches. With speed such as that which Charlie "Chopper" Johnson had, a bunt could easily be turned into a base hit.

The general consensus was that by the end of the year, Hoover's team would be S.D.—C.I.F. champion. But to again be champs, Hoover will have to get by such opponents as Crawford, San Diego, and Saints. It is hopeful that the Cardinals will get the Eastern League title that eluded them last year. The future also looks bright with juniors, such as Wes Daw, a catcher, Charlie Johnson, a shortstop, and others who are serving on the J.V. team.

Starting above, counter-clockwise: Hoover's fine pitcher, Mike Harrison, hurls one toward the plate. Cardinal third baseman, John Helfrick, comes up with the ball from a hot line shot. Garry Stock of Hoover steals a base long before the throw. Bill Jacobsen swats one 375 feet in a game against Helix. Tired after a hard day's work, Dana Baltzer contemplates the price of victory. Outfielder Tom Petrich talks the situation over with Coach Bartow before going to bat for the Red Birds.

Hard Hitting Cards Show Their Stuff

Starting above, clockwise: Dana Baltzer demonstrates one of his many talents that has put him among the best ball players in Hoover's history. George Cappelletti slides home under Kearny's catcher. Second baseman Kenny Hibbard prepares to make the catch. Garry Stock is met by happy teammates after belting a homer against Kearny. Charlie "The Chopper" Johnson races home before the throw.

With this good crop of sophomore boys coming up next year to the varsity level, Hoover can expect to be a very solid contender for Eastern League honors in future years.

Loaded with many varsity prospects and a keen competitive spirit, 1968 had a fine J.V. Baseball team. Having won the Eastern League crown last year, it looked as of this writing, that this year will be a repeat of last year.

First Row: Coach Foote, Daniels, Fornanaca, Naughton, Sick, Brennan, Stamos, Richardson.
Second Row: Slaughter, Adams, Murphy, Sexton, West, Hoxel, Booth, Kellogg.

Golf '68

The duffers this year were plagued with inconsistency. Many Cardinal golfers turned in outstanding rounds, but couldn't manage to put it all together.

As of this printing Coach Foote said the Red Birds were on the upward path toward victory. This is easy to believe with such golfers as Mike Hoxel, Richard Stamos, George Kellogg, and David Richardson to spur the team on to victory.

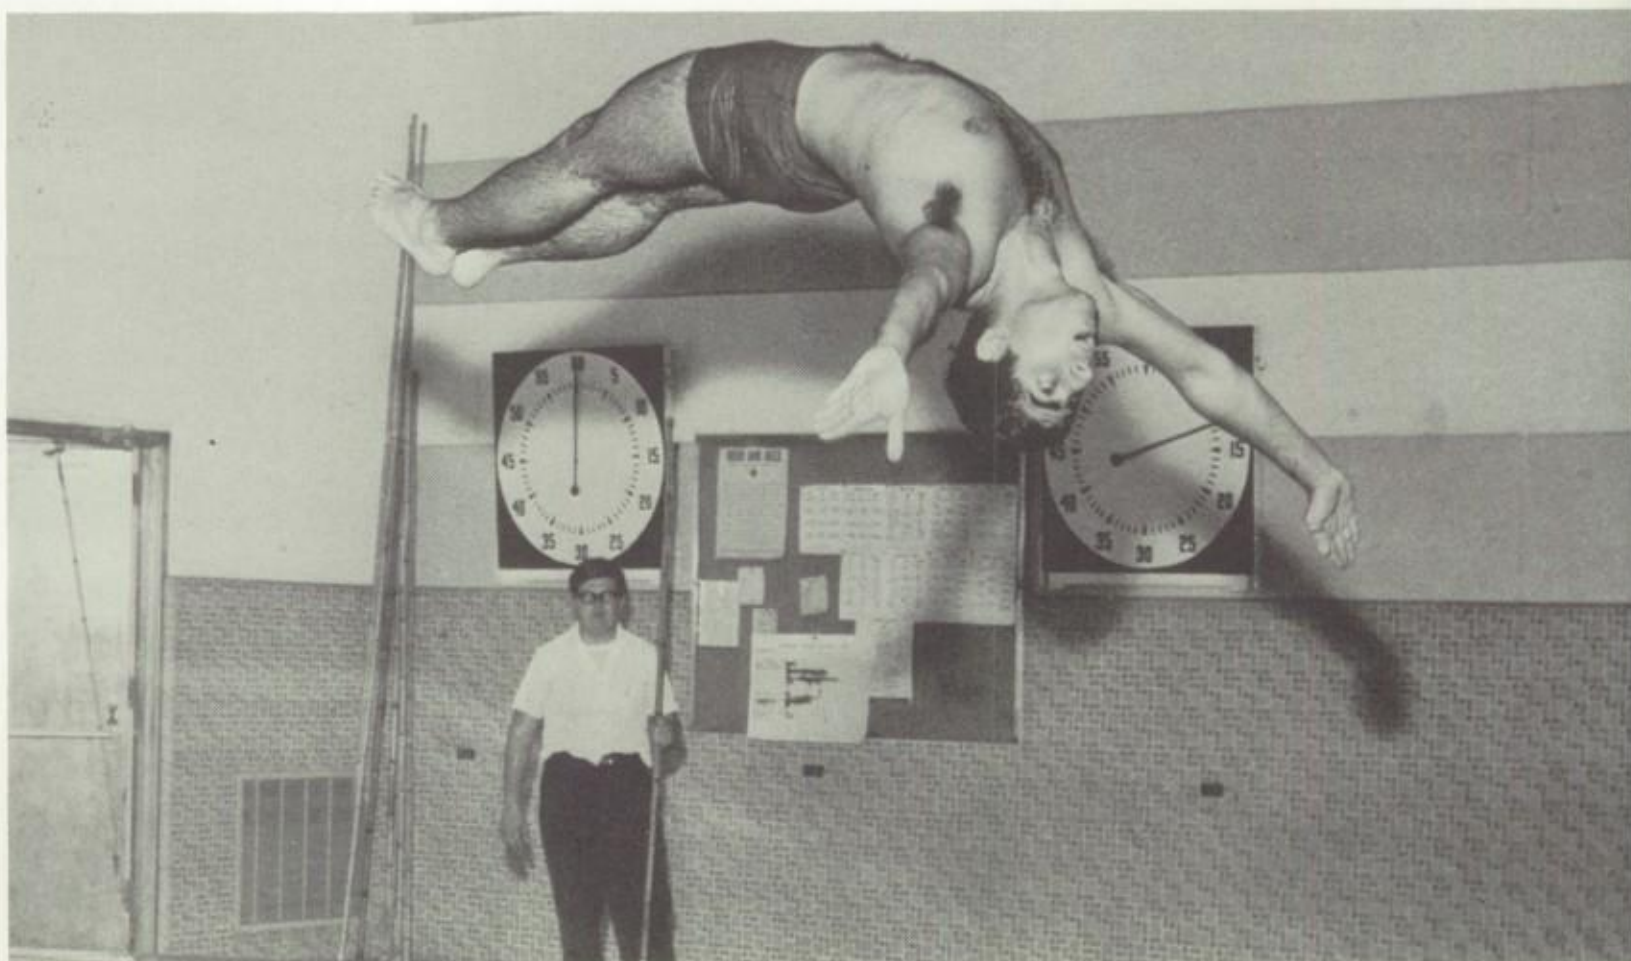

Coach Foote stated that if just a little more effort is shown, the game of golf has a bright future at Hoover High.

Aquamen of '68

As of this writing it could be said that the "aquanauts" were having a fine season. Because of the many sophomores and juniors in Coach Finan's storehouse, next year's team is full of promise.

Such standouts on the team are Jim Morrow who is only a junior, Bob Brennecke, Dan Shafer, and diver Mahmoudi. The team is doing very well and by the end of this year should expect many Eastern League honors as well as CIF.

This year's Varsity Track Team was paced mainly by returning lettermen. Getting many points in the sprints were John Philips, Jim Talbot, Mike Martinez, and others. Also returning to help out in the distance department were Bob Walker, Tim Vigil, and Larry Walker.

In the field events: Lloyd Burrows was our number one man in the shot put and Dan Touchstone was the best in the high jump. Jim Talbot, who was only a junior, was among the county's best in the broad jump. Others who picked up valuable points were: Walter Mulford and Pat Kelly in the 440, Steve Booth in the Hurdles, Ruben Rodriguez in the distance events.

Up to the date of printing, Hoover had posted wins against Morse and Crawford, thus putting us in strong contention for a league title. Undoubtedly there will be many individual CIF honors.

NANCY PENUELAS

From those early days of the Sophomore year, the class of 1968 showed signs of being special. There was exceptional interest in class officers, an esprit de corps was evident that demonstrated pride of the class and pride of Hoover.

This difficult-to-identify spirit grew and made fine contributions during your high school career. There were many individuals who, at various times during the three years, shouldered more than their share of the load. But every individual who gave a part of himself to the success that has been yours, is the greatest beneficiary of all.

We hope that many lessons and much learning have taken place while you have been at Herbert Hoover High School. Not the least of this learning is the lesson of personal involvement, pride and loyalty to a school community and the satisfaction that comes from being a responsible participating member of a group.

Now your horizons are expanded! A confused and struggling world is in need of your enthusiasm, your energy, and your full participation. You will be a part of a society that is depending for its very life on the full measure of service of each individual.

We have utmost confidence in the contribution that you, the class of 1968, will make. Our very best wishes go with each and everyone of you in your next endeavor.

Earnest

Mrs. Lois Ruffa -- Girls' Vice-Principal

Richard Jackson -- Executive Vice-Principal

Mr. C. Russell Henzie

Mr. C. Russell Henzie, Principal of Herbert Hoover High School, believes in the youth of today. He is behind them one hundred per cent. Mr. Henzie respects the students and welcomes their ideas and suggestions for the betterment of our school.

Administrators Strive For Excellence

Mrs. Lois Ruffa

Hoover's Dean of Girls, Mrs. Lois Ruffa, is always smiling and a friendly person to be with. She obtained her B.A. from the College of Wooster and received her M.A. from Northwestern University in Illinois.

Anyone who works with this dedicated woman readily realizes the exceptional ability with which she performs her duties. Her job is one of comforting students in times of trouble and of helping them find solutions to their problems.

The approximately 1400 Cardinal coeds and the administration came to a compromise this year in agreement to an acceptable dress length. Mrs. Ruffa urged a moderately liberal decision which pleased everyone.

Mr. Richard Jackson

Vice-Principal Richard R. Jackson is the meticulous man whose sensible foresight into complex situations guides many daily. As coordinator of student activities he works with student leaders from every organization giving advice to help them help themselves.

Mr. Jackson attended Occidental College where he obtained his B.A. and he received his Masters degree at the School of Administration at San Diego State College. He previously taught at Dana Jr. High, Crawford, and San Diego High, his alma mater. He held the position of Vice-Principal at Crawford and Clairemont before coming to Hoover.

Mr. Jackson sees many opportunities for the present physical facilities for the students and the staff. Another project he hopes to make progress with is a clean campus crusade.

During his first year here, he was pleased with such a large and active student body. He regards the tradition and loyalty displayed for our school as one of the things that make Hoover the best. He is also impressed with the staff and their sincere desires of having a good program.

Mr. George Robison

The responsibilities of George D. Robison are a multitude of day to day challenges. As boys' Vice-Principal he is in charge of disciplinary action with the boys at Hoover.

He is responsible for the accounting of daily attendance and oversees adult supervision of extra-curricular activities. He works with the Math, Social Science, Industrial Arts, and Physical Education departments and is the administrator representative to the Student-Faculty Finance Committee.

Mr. Robison received his B.A. and Masters at San Diego State College. He taught Math and P.E. at Wilson Jr. High and, for the last nine years, presided as Vice-Principal of Wilson. He notices the biggest difference between a junior high and senior high school is the maturity level of the students.

Mr. Robison is new to Hoover in his administrative post but, having graduated from our school, he is familiar with the traditions and pride that is felt for Hoover. He emphatically feels that little has changed since his days in high school, the kids are the same, and he regrets that fact that the reputation of all teenagers is marred by the few.

George Robison -- Boys' Vice-Principal.

Mr. Charles Bentley, a graduate of San Diego State College, is a welcomed addition to Hoover's teaching staff. His schedule includes two Graphic Arts classes and Wood 1-2.

Mr. Bill Mulkey enjoys performing the duties connected with being an Auto Shop instructor and delights in the thought of seeing his students show an interest in their own automobiles.

Wayne DeBate, during his second year as department chairman, heads all athletic programs.

Boys in Jerry Bartow's classes were often seen running the bleachers. As coach of the Varsity baseball team, he instills a true winning spirit in the players.

The goals of the physical education department are to aid the development of strong, well poised, organically sound bodies for wholesome living in school and a possible wholesome future. Mechanics of body movement and physical fitness were of ultimate importance in the teaching.

There is a social and emotional adjustment through physical activity achieved within the class situation by the elements of team work and sportsmanship.

Line coach for our football team, Russell Leslie is well liked by all. He feels that wrestling is an excellent way to keep in shape.

Track coach, John Murphy, is a great supporter and alumnus of Notre Dame. He tends to let the boys work at their own individual pace.

Harold Mitrovich, coach of the Varsity basketball team, is tuned in to today's youth; this helps bring about a team effort and a special additional effort.

Robert Warner coaches wrestling and the J.V. baseball team. He is often heard saying, "You must put out 100% or nothing."

Rain or shine, the boys are given an active schedule of sports.

Charles McIntire, one of the finest coaches in his field, works with the gymnastic team and stresses physical fitness to all his classes.

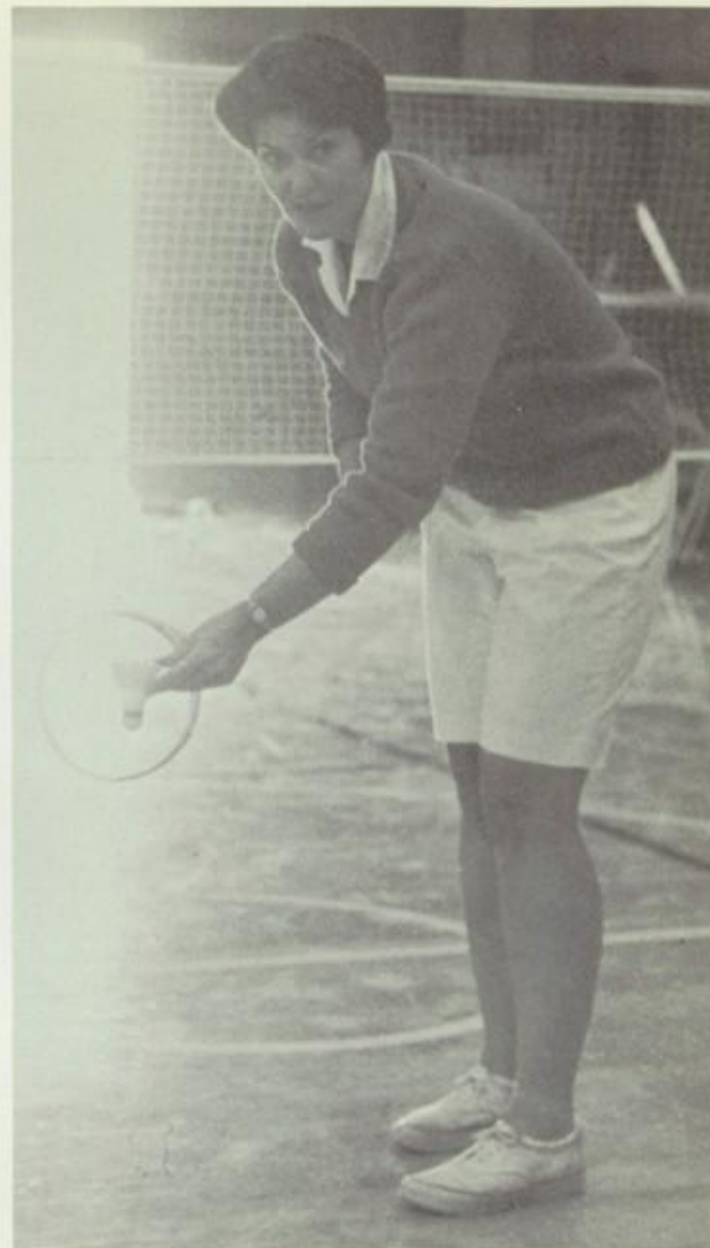

Above right: As a sponsor of the Cardinettes Drill Team, Helen Barr spent much time in supervising this fine performing group.

Good sportsmanship and honesty are of prime importance in the classes of Jacqueline Rose. Here she demonstrates a badminton serve.

Margaret Minshall demonstrates the correct forehand swing. She sponsors the Girls' Tennis which was extremely active in tournament competition this year.

Sharon Sandeno brought new spirit ideas to our pep group this year as their club sponsor. She teaches Basic Biology 1-2 in addition to four gym classes.

Mrs. Florence Ferris taps the drum to the beat of a song for her modern dance class. She is a sponsor of the Cardinettes Drill Team.

Mrs. Helen Bauldauf, the school nurse, is always ready to come to the rescue of an injured Hooverite and has helpful remedies for our everyday ailments.

Schurer Moe is always available to help students get to know the system of the library and what Hoover's has to offer. Mr. Moe felt that the T.A.'s did an excellent job of tutoring many of our students.

John Eves, Diana Hart, Peggy Bruner, Jim Butler and Bill Arnett (not pictured) are the five students from San Diego State College. They worked as Teacher Assistants under the supervision of Mr. Moe. They offered their services to students who requested individual tutoring in the various academic subjects.

Mrs. Ruth Precourt, left, and Mrs. Virginia Dossey, right, take full charge of the secretarial procedures of our library. They also keep a close check on the some 35,000 textbooks available.

Acceleration of one's speed of reading and increased comprehension are the benefits received from the Improved Reading Laboratory, which is supervised by Mrs. Doris Oatman and Schurer Moe.

Anita Gillett, head librarian, does an excellent job of organizing the school library with a provision of over 19,500 books.

SFC Kenneth Chance stresses to his Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets the importance of marksmanship, drill and physical training. The boys are also taught military courtesy, discipline, first aid and map reading.

Owen Downing, pictured, instructed the Driver's Training course the first semester. The object is to try to teach good attitudes, defensive driving, and basically to alert the driver. The trailer with the simulated cars was here the second semester, along with Mr. Ormsby, coordinator, Mr. Breyer, Mr. Maxwell, Mr. Christie and Mr. Bellis.

Ralph Lynch, administrative assistant, does a great deal of behind the scenes work. He performs special duties assigned by the Principal and Vice Principal. He also supervises the Audio Visual department.

Richard Hammes instructed students in a course of Political Science. This outgoing teacher from Mesa Junior College made the three classroom hours a week an extremely stimulating and exciting experience for everyone.

Darryle Pearson, a student from State College, is a Teacher assistant and works with the Audio Visual department.

Gary Gale, also from State College, adjusts the lens of an opaque projector. He is under the supervision of Mr. Lynch in the A.V. office.

Efficiency And Enthusiasm Sparked This Year's Senior Events

Starting above,
clockwise: Peggy
Standley, Tower Day;
Marcia Huys, Historian;
Judy Novack,
Senior Cardinal
Editor.

As a result of the efficient organizational force of cabinet and officers, and of course, the enthusiastic class participation, this was a year to remember.

Perhaps the most meaningful moments were those that came with graduation. Tower Day and Commencement signified the climax of our high school career.

On the lighter side were such occasions as Fun Nite at San Diego State's Peterson Gym, a Saint Patrick's Day Dance, and who wasn't glad to don their ultra-informal (but oh-so-comfortable) attire for Senior Day!

The Class of '68 will long remember and appreciate the contributions made by officers and cabinet, whose efforts were behind the many successful Senior activities.

Starting left, clockwise: Fred Lowell, Senior Play;
Patty Deveau, Autograph Nite; Beth Benedict, Senior
Luncheon; Mark Davis, Member-at-Large; Cathy Buono, Activities; Marcia Kern, Publicity.

Contributions of time and effort on the part of Senior Class officers and cabinet were the main elements of the year's success. Add to this a bit of inspiration and class spirit and the result was an enthusiastic response to several unique activities. Respective committees and chairmen coordinated plans for varied occasions, while a number of sales provided a helpful boost to finances.

An old tradition was broken and perhaps a new one was instilled with the first Senior Luncheon. Such contrasting events as Baccalaureate and Autograph Nite reflected the many moods and meanings of graduation. Also highlighting the close of the year was the Senior Prom, which brought the International Room of the El Cortez Hotel to life with its theme, "Viva L'Amour."

Starting above, clockwise: Laurie Freed, Baccalaureate; Aileen Hietanen, Announcements; Ginny Alden, Clerk; Rory Leeper, Prom; Janie Larkin, Sales.

Graduation -- Nineteen hundred sixty eight! The long awaited, magical date has arrived. The magic is the knowledge, the skills and the scholastic achievement gained; the honors and recognition earned; the fun and friendships enjoyed.

For each one of you, as you now leave Hoover, it is hoped that you have gained the understanding of self and the world in which you live. This can be a big step toward success and happiness. I hope each and every senior has taken a step toward the goal of identifying a purpose in life.

As students you have added Hoover's prestige and tradition with your achievement, your willingness to serve and your desire and ability to produce the best.

Congratulations and sincere good wishes to each and every member of the class of 1968.

Mrs. Volz

Members of the graduating class of 1968:

Youth is a time of the blackest of nights and the brightest and most colorful of days. It is a time when equity is clearcut and the ethics and morals of a lifetime are being forged. The days of youth are happy days, exciting days, which become even more so as they recede into the past. The sweet and sour memories of scholarly glory and chagrin, gay comradeship and the quiet moments of introspection will last forever.

You in turn will be remembered for your conquering Cardinal spirit of achievement, loyalty, scholarly accomplishment and industrious effort.

It has been a high point of my life to have been one who shared a few of these preparatory years of wonder and self-discovery with you and your parents. My very best wishes as you enter our remarkably changing, larger world, bound for great adventures.

Wet and Wild

The pie-eating contest.

Aftermath of the pie-eating contest.

It seemed as though Senior Day was not going to happen. The first date was rained out, and the second date was bravely pushed, even though storm clouds hovered over San Diego.

The purpose of the assembly was to inform the Seniors of the activities and obligations given to them. However, fun and games became the order of the day.

Linda Heckler and John Havens won the exciting and clean water balloon fight. Due to their dexterity, their balloon never split, even when they attempted to intentionally burst it.

The Senior Cabinet—Commissioner's tug o' war was a hard fought, wet (not with perspiration) battle lasting a total of one minute. The Commissioner's aided by members of the football team were the victors.

The most thrilling and colorful event of the day was the pie eating contest. The pies ranged in flavor from lemon to apple. The contestants ranged in gender from the masculine to the feminine. Toni Flores won this contest and suddenly the pies were everywhere but in the pie tins.

The Senior Day was indeed one of "Fun and Joviality."

Free To Be Independent

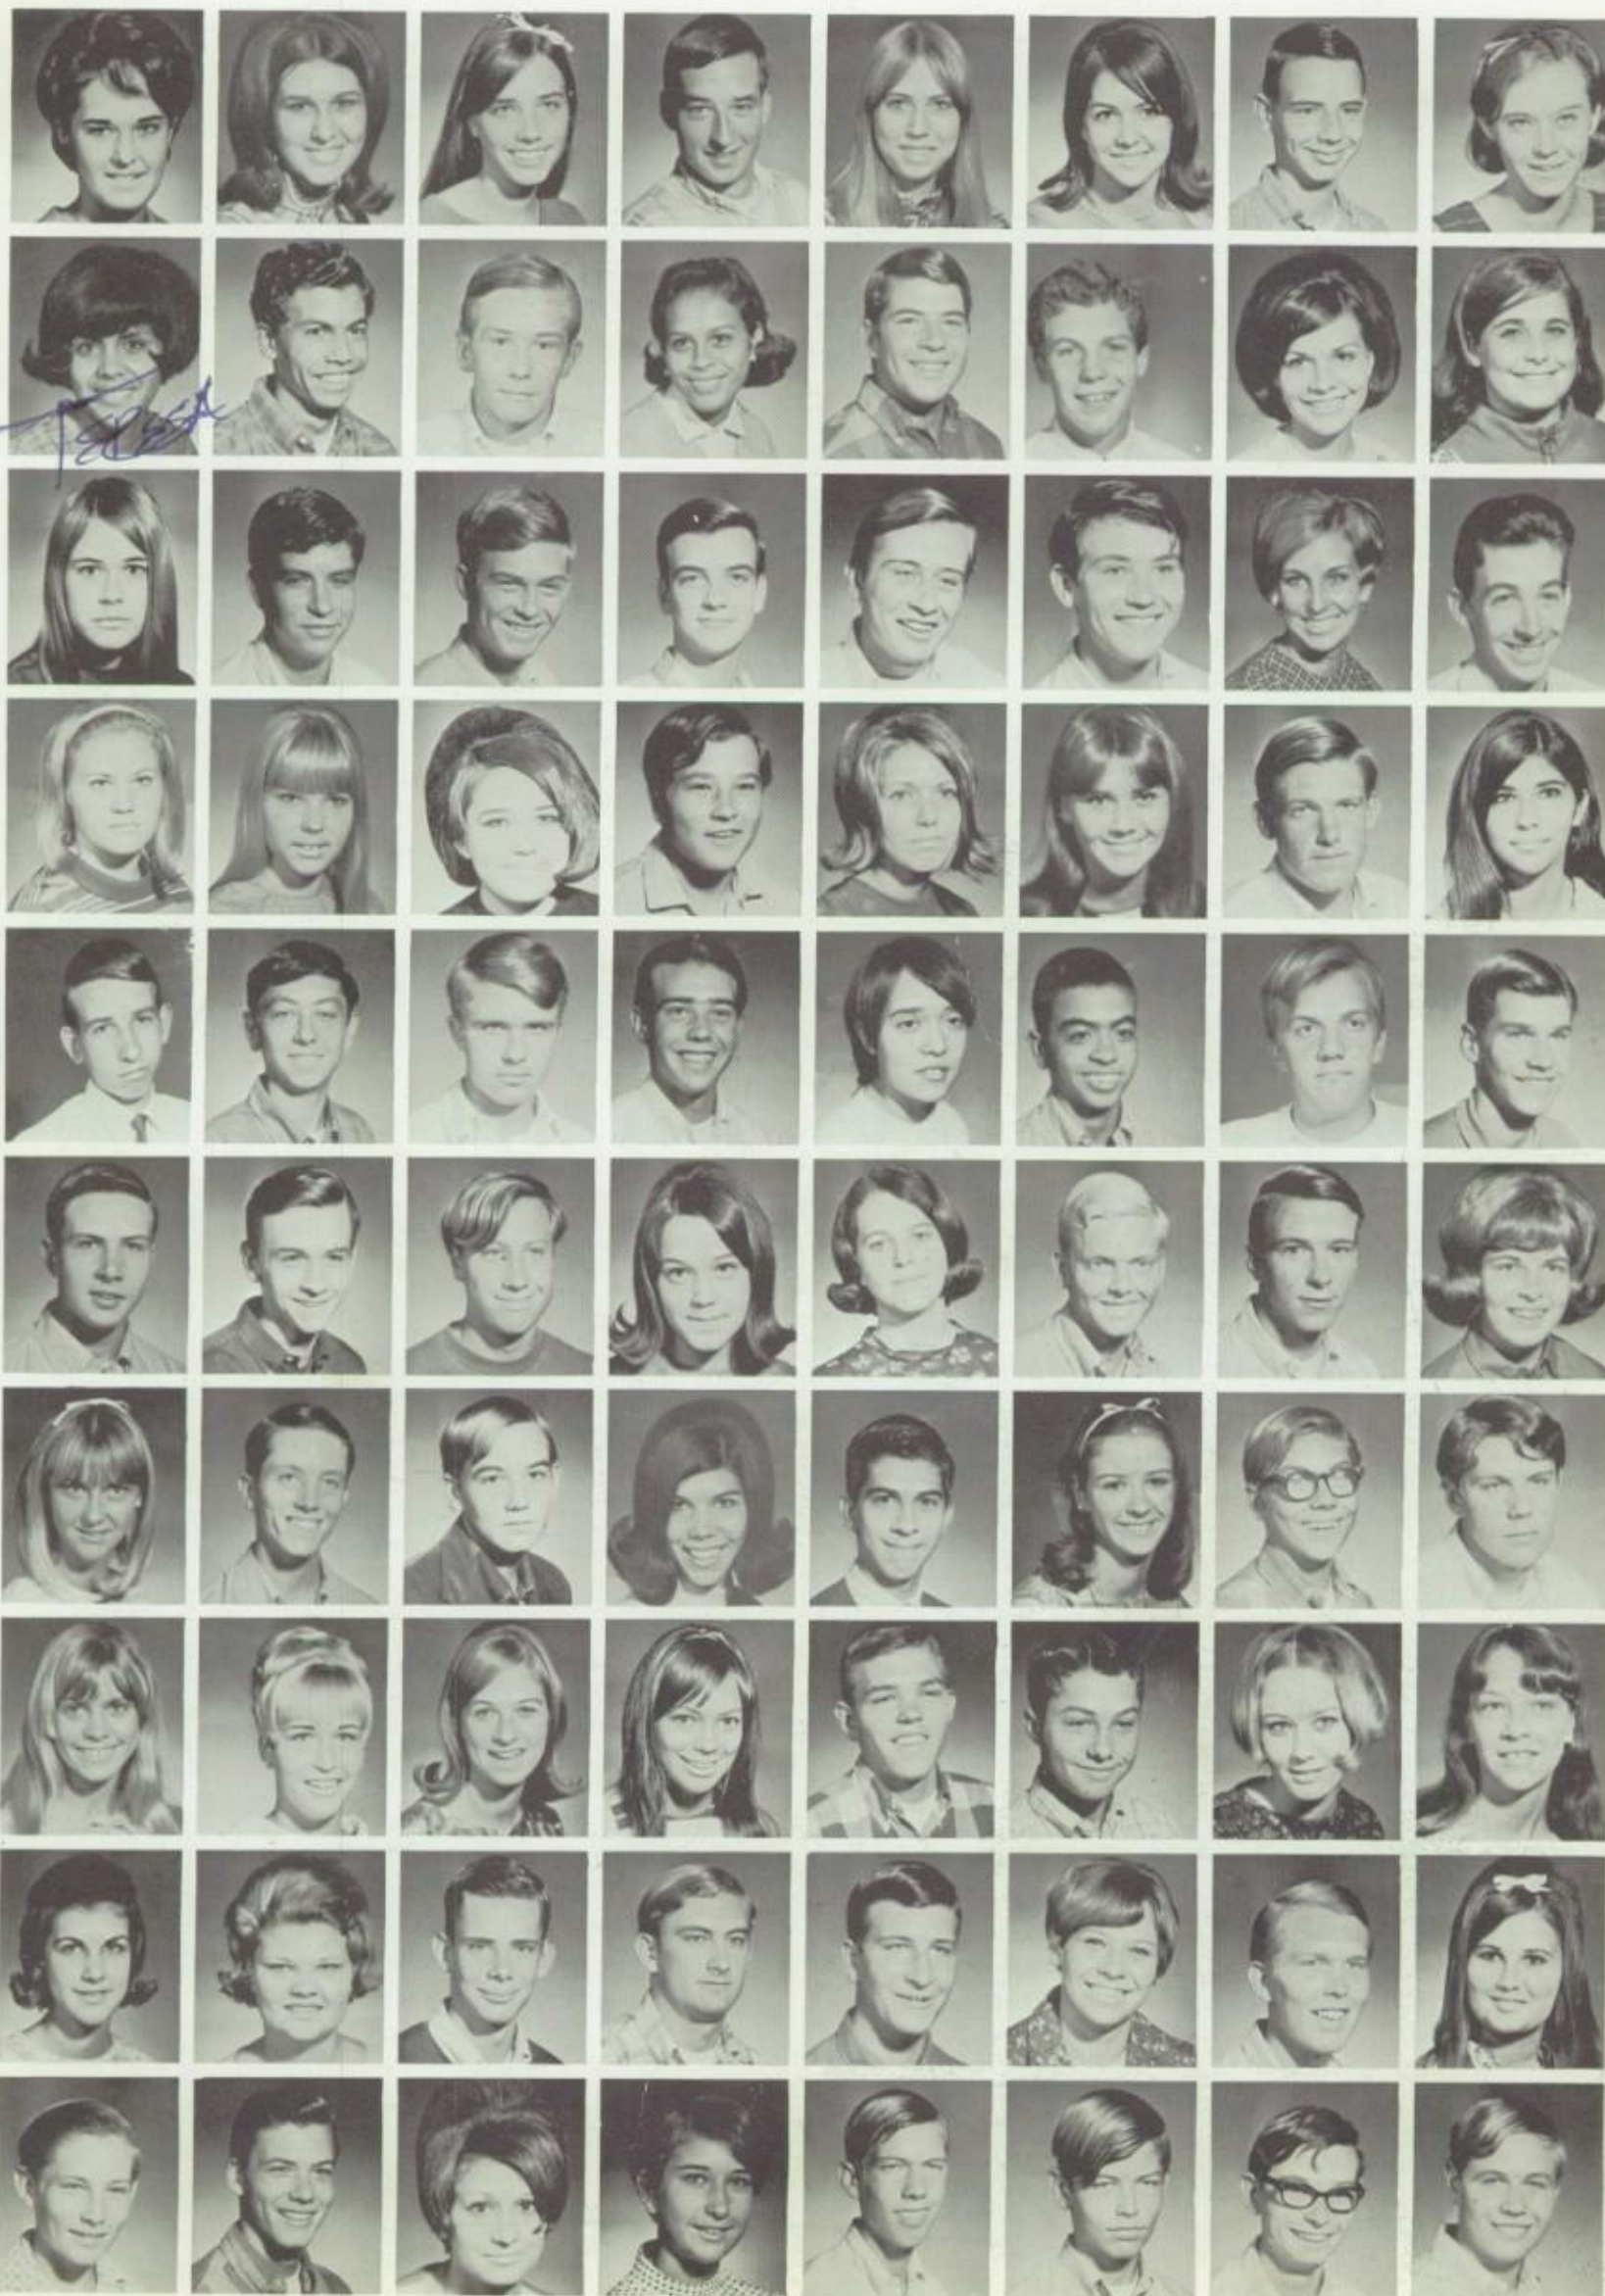

The junior class was a tree--a freedom tree. In the heart of the tree grew the spirit of the '67 - '68 school year.

The roots were ideas the juniors formed to get examples for following generations. The class members were integral branches, each holding leaves of goals. Large, green leaves showed productive ideas, while passing fads withered away with time.

The Ring Committee was able to provide gold rings with red stones for the girls this year. This added a new choice to the previous black with gold and red with silver combinations. Another committee on the ball was the Sales Committee, that organized a sale of candied apples for all hungry Hooverites.

On Junior Fun Nite the class of '69 enjoyed a revival of their "Childhood Daze." Juniors were truly juniors as they raced tricycles, chewed bubble gum, and had the same kind of fun that little kids have. As prom time came around, Juniors became sophisticated young adults for their evening of dancing and romance. "Carousel" the theme of this year's prom, was a memorable event, and just one more thing the class of '69 has to remember.

Free To Be Discovered

The class of '70 added a new ingredient to the mixture of student life at Hoover. The upperclassmen discovered the power and spirit of a united class. Being the largest class was only one asset the sophomores possessed. They were free to be discovered, and they truly were discovered.

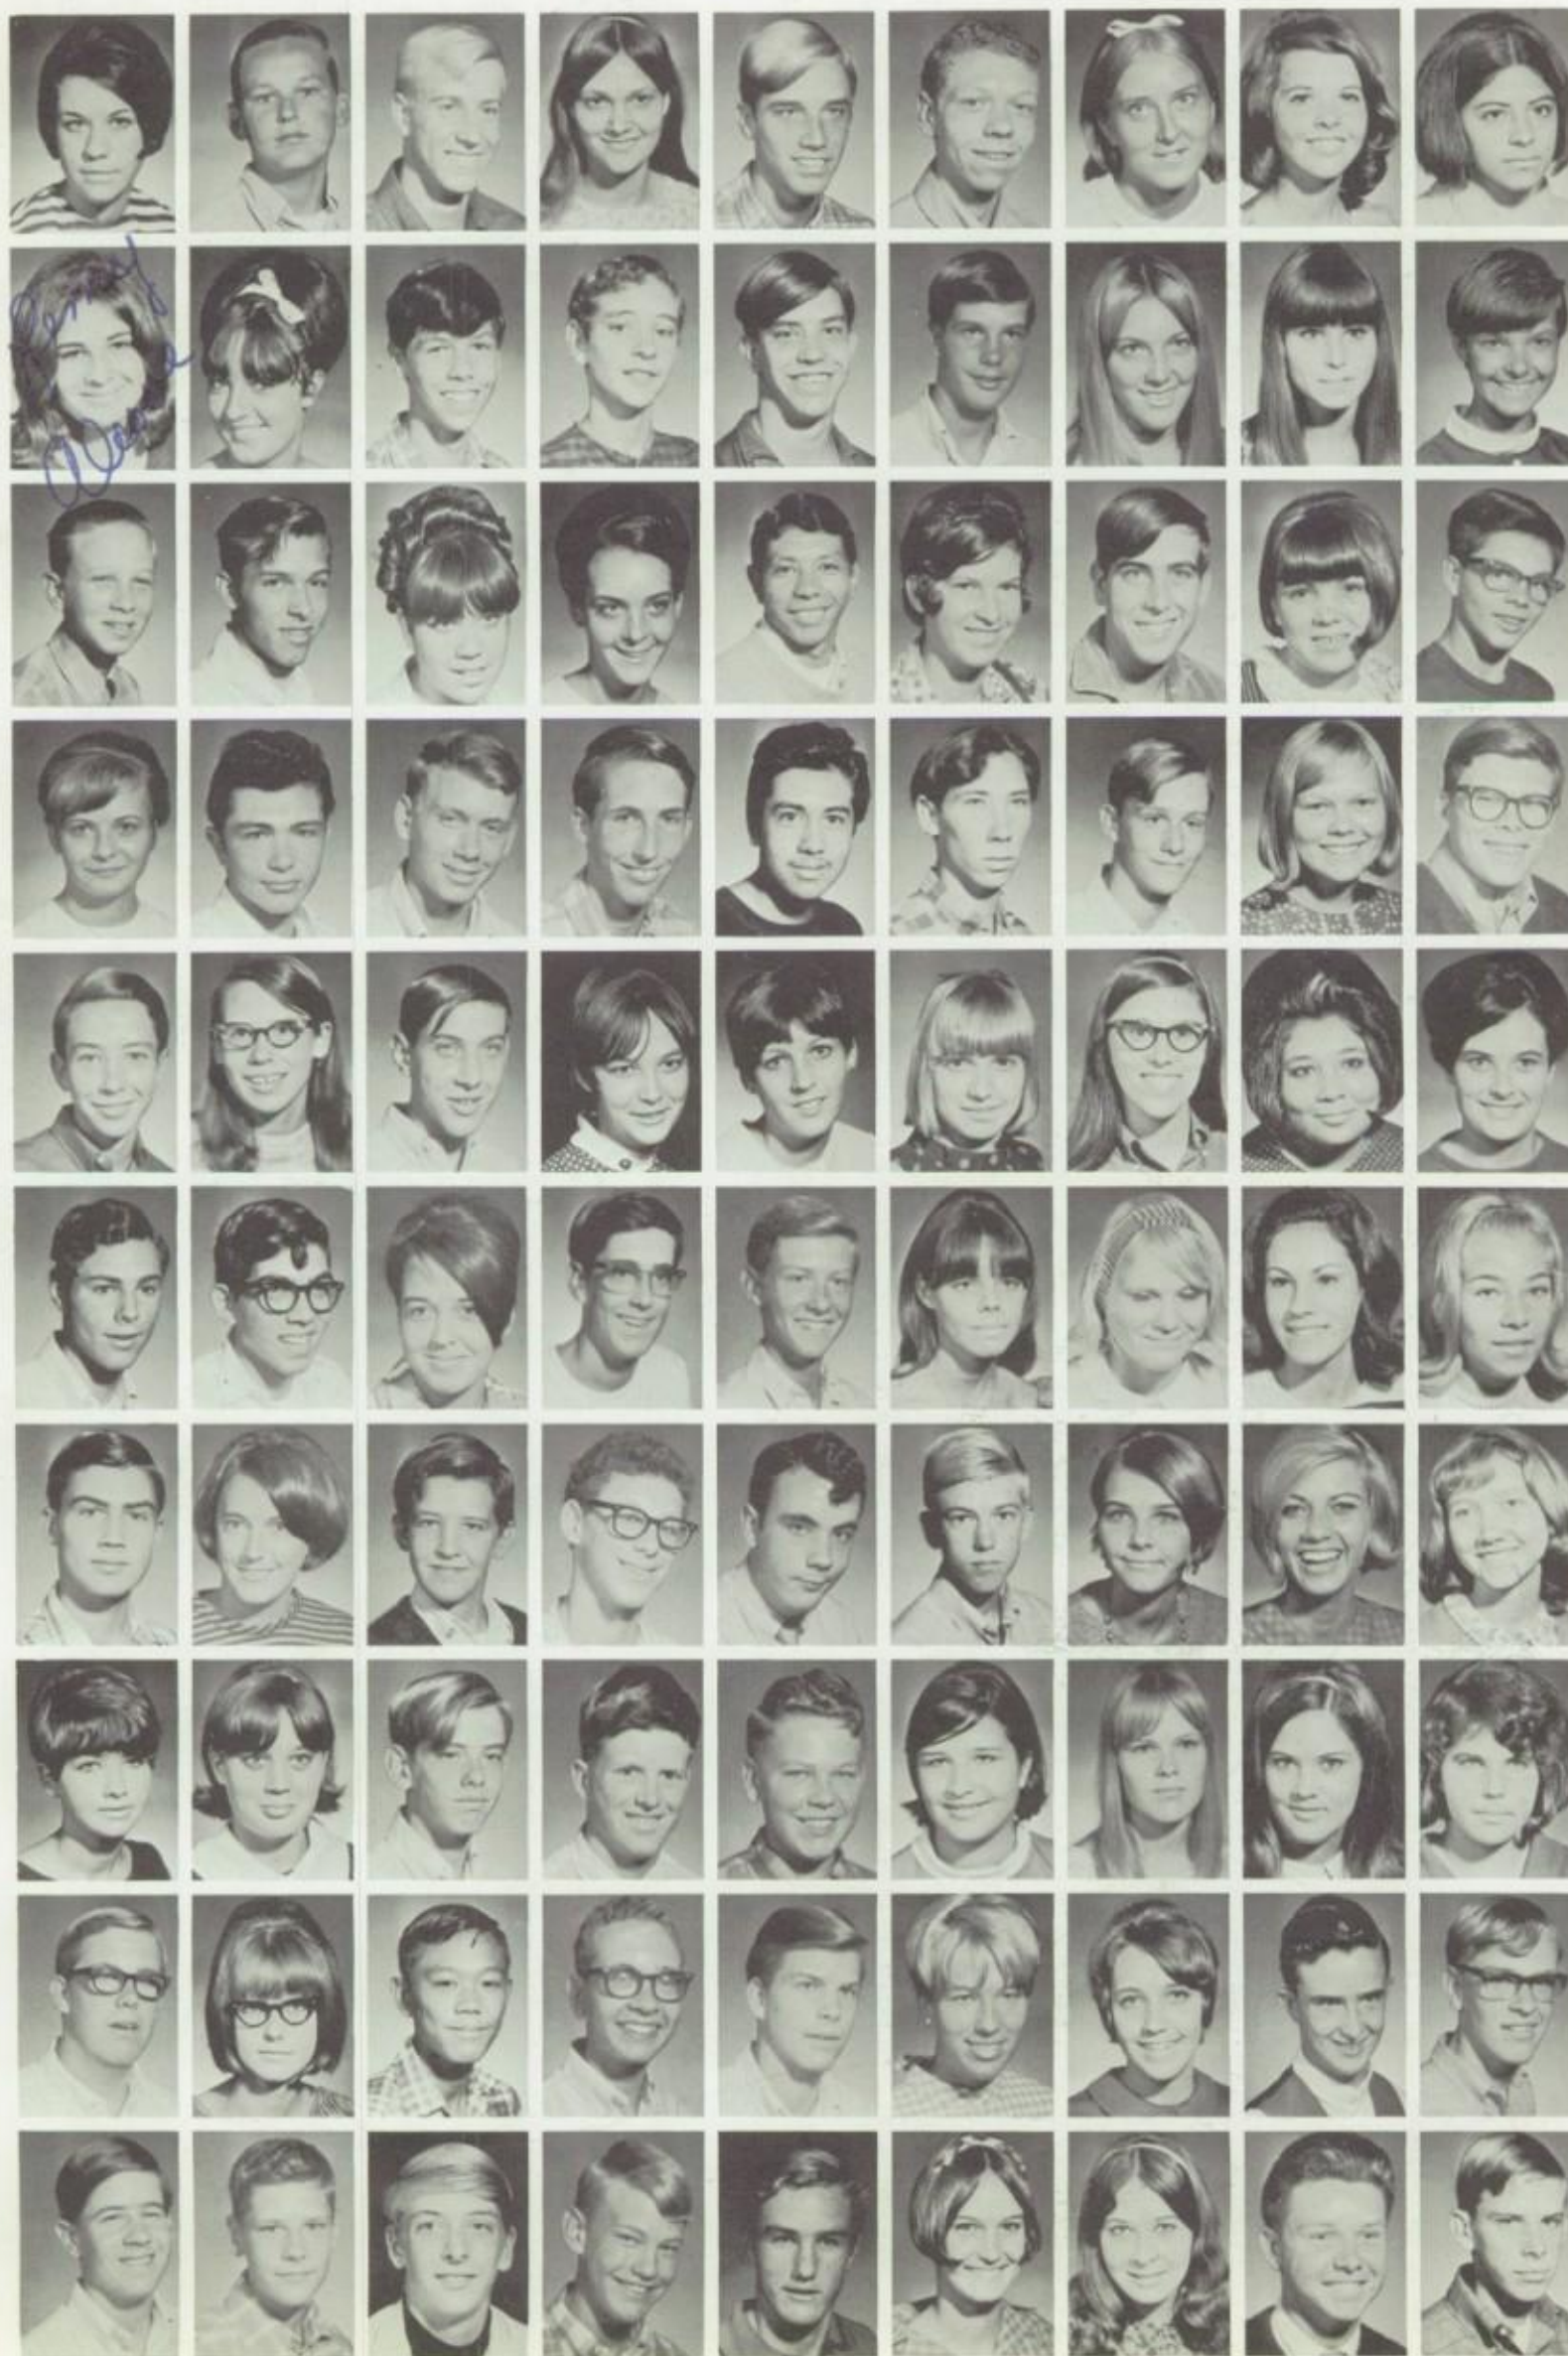

With a driving force typical of a senior class, the sophomores captured first prize with their float, "A Place in the Sun." This class has proven to Hoover that it will not be satisfied to operate in the background.

The class of '70 also exhibited originality. Their first sale provided doughnut holes for the student body and capital for the sophomores.

Next year the class of '70 will be smaller, for a portion of the sophomores will go to the new Patrick Henry High School. To these pioneers of traditions for a new school, Dias Cardinales wishes the same success they achieved as sophomores at Hoover.

Yearbook Staff 60

MOST AMERICANS DO VALUE EDUCATION AS A BUSINESS ASSET, BUT NOT AS THE ENTRANCE INTO THE JOY OF INTELLECTUAL EXPERIENCE OR ACQUAINTANCE WITH THE BEST THAT HAS BEEN SAID AND DONE IN THE PAST. THEY VALUE IT NOT AS AN EXPERIENCE, BUT AS A TOOL.

THIS BOOK IS A SYMBOL WHICH REPRESENTS THIS YEAR. LIKE THE CLASS OF '68, THE YEARBOOK OF '68 IS EXCEPTIONAL. THE FREE SPIRITS OF TWENTY-TWO PEOPLE ARE EXPRESSED ON THESE PAGES AND THE END PRODUCT IS THE STORY OF A GREAT YEAR.

AS EDITOR, I SAY THANK YOU TO MR. STARR AND THE MOST FANTASTIC STAFF, BUT ALSO THANKS TO UNAWARE HOOVER STUDENTS WHO WERE OUR SUBJECTS. NOW WE CAN STEP OUT OF THIS YEAR AND INTO A NEW ONE, BUT THE MEMORIES WILL REMAIN.

Saying it I wake you up to after in English! I'll see you this summer down at the club.
That place is wind. Good luck!

Im really glad I got to know you this year. I will never forget our (cheating) or exchange of answers in Biology.
Next year I probably wont see very much of you unless its walking around somewhere. But stay like you are. (Stay married)

Love,
Lorna

Rick you're really a bitchin' I to guys. I'm sorry we had to meet the way we did. I hope to see you next year and have a good summer. Love Juki Joles

Ricky,

We've been together
 for 2 years + 3 days now,
 + I want to tell you they have been the happiest years for me in my whole life.
 Even though we have our problems, we let them slide, or try to work them out,
 but we always come out happy. Everything can't come out hearts + flowers
 if you know what I mean
 + I think you do.

Ricky, if we ever do go on our separate ways, I want you to remember, that you shouldn't let anyone come between your plans for your life, because there are good plans + you'll always regret the persons who messed them up for you. I know you can make them come true with some good effort.

Be good + may God Bless you
 Love always,

(Reserved) Cherri

P.S. Sorry I can't tell you how much I love you
